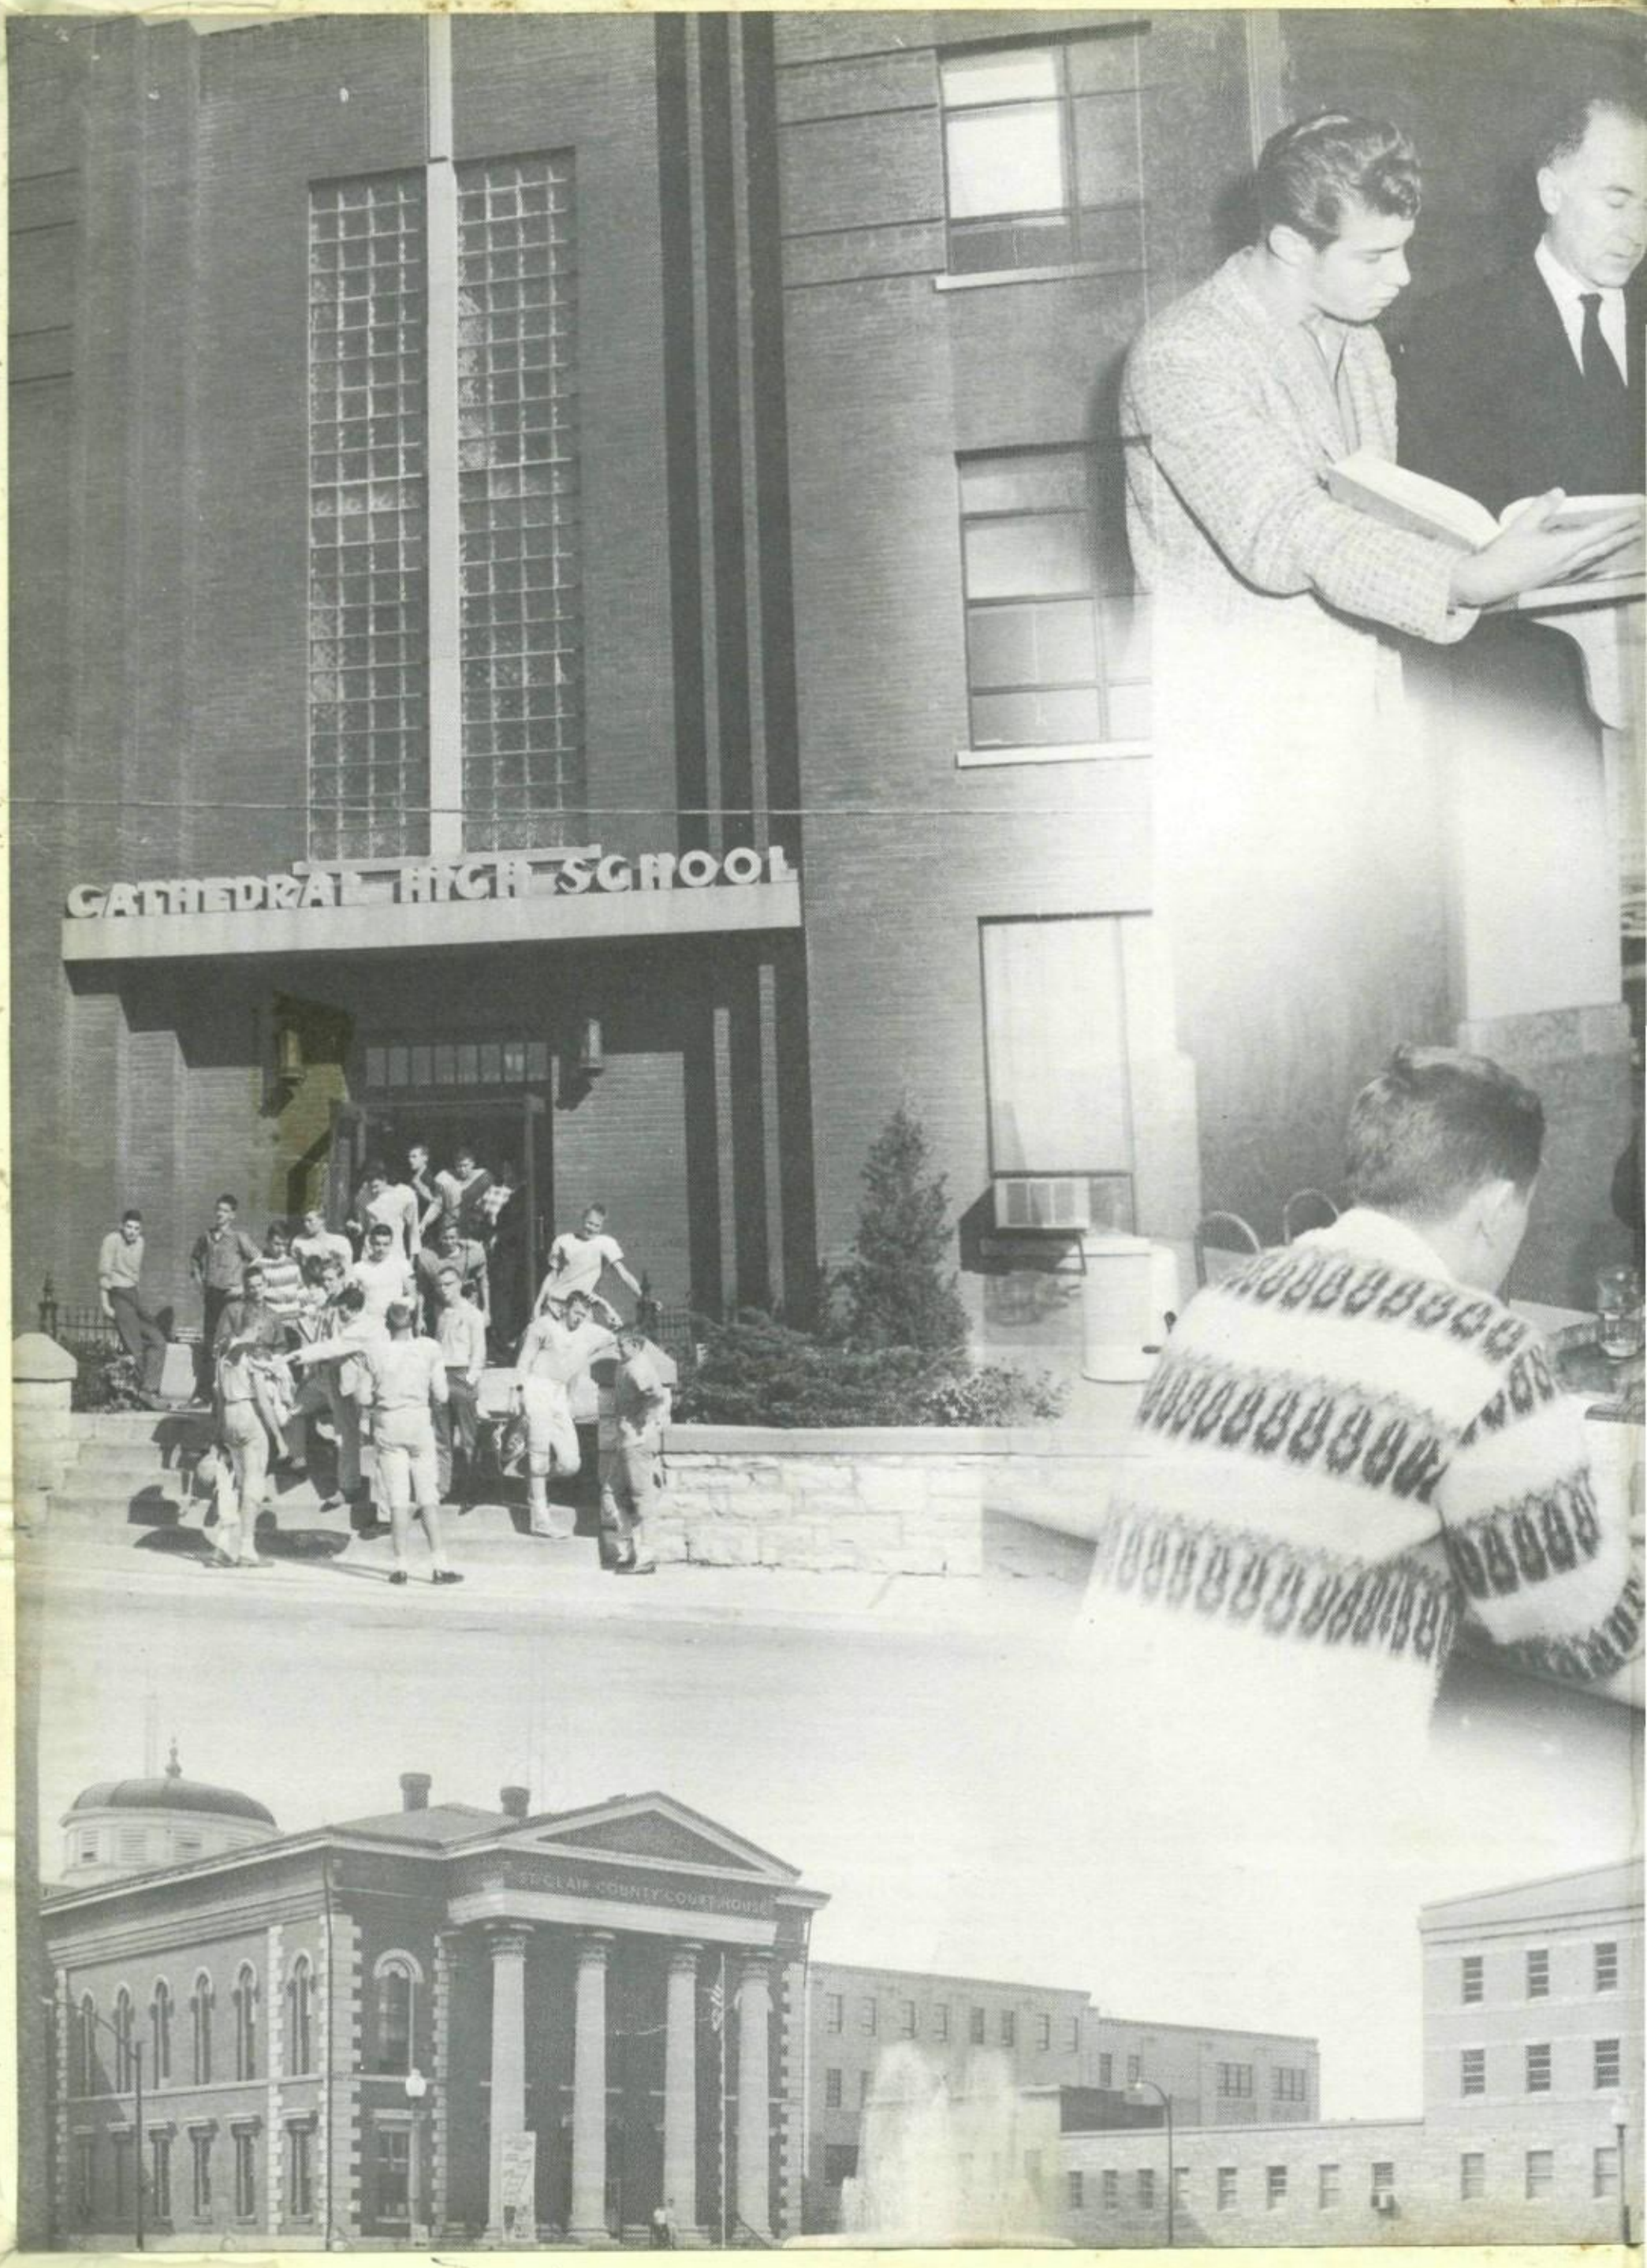
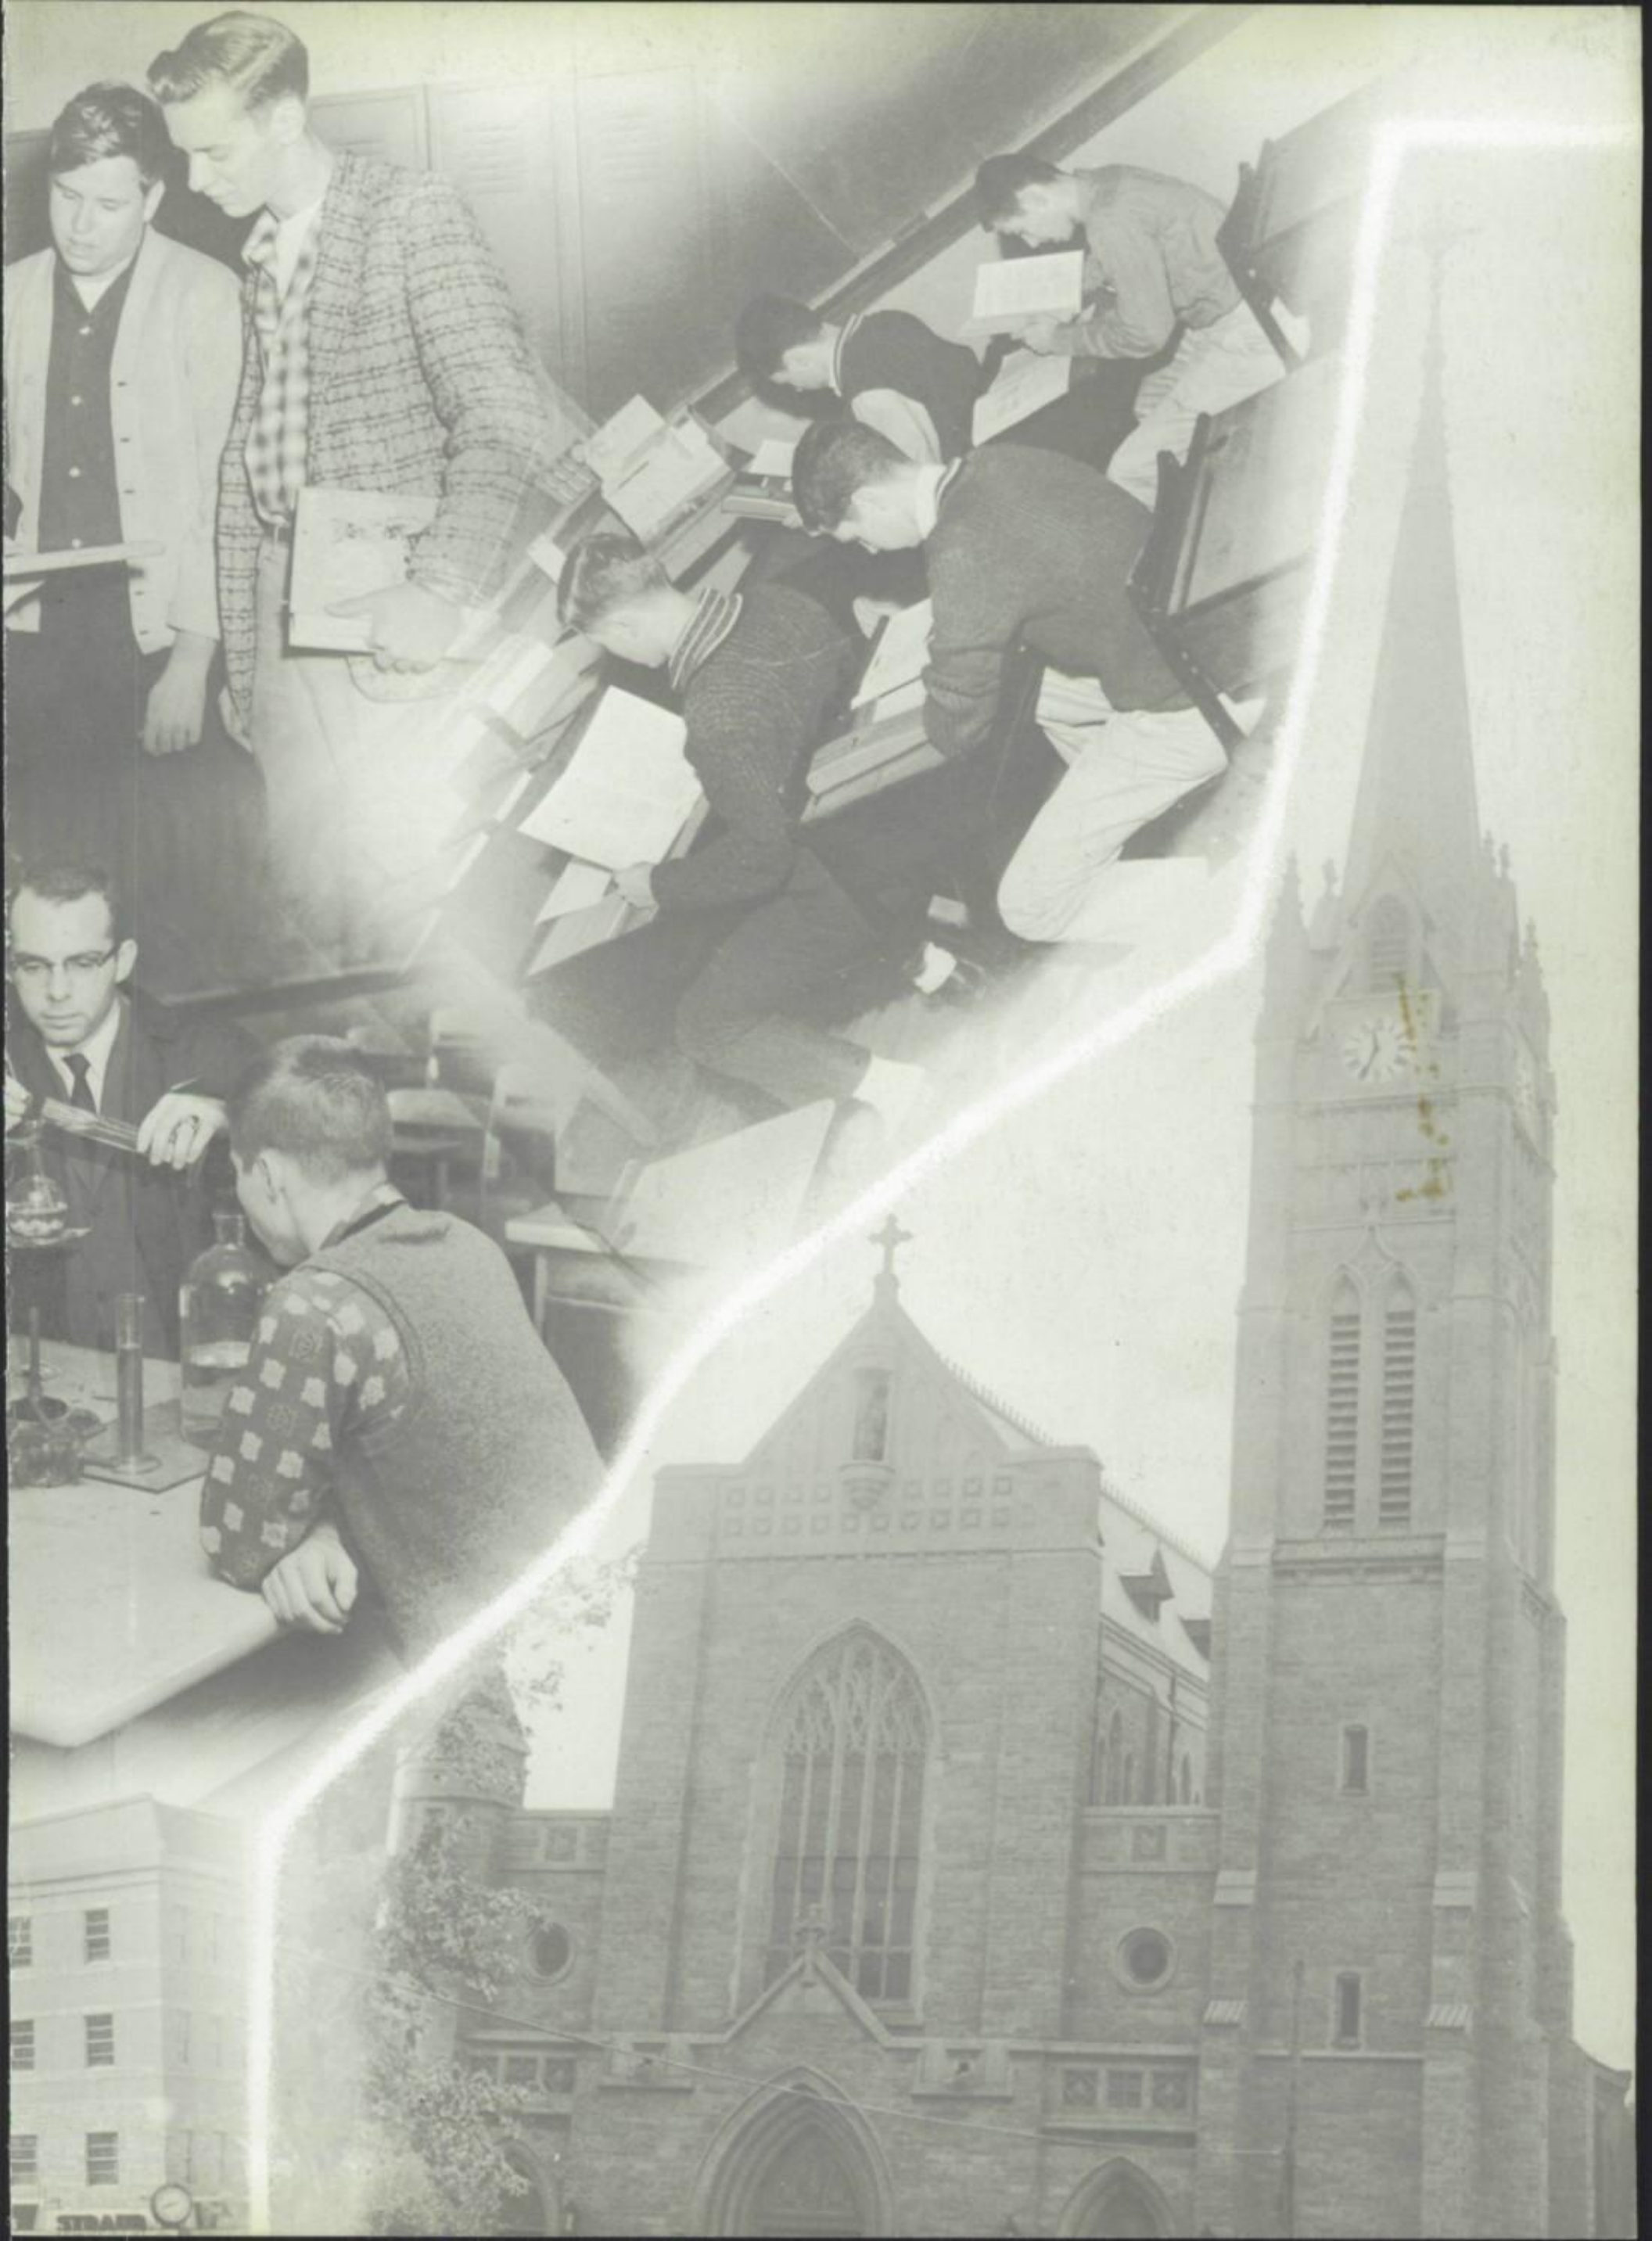
'62 CRUSADER



CATHEDRAL HIGH SCHOOL
ST. CLAIR COUNTY COURT HOUSE



FRIENDSHIP

The four years of life at Cathedral have been our formative years. We have learned much through study and experience. However, as Seniors we shall take with us far more than facts and memories. The friendship of our fellow students, our teachers and associates which we have molded during these high school days will be our constant companion through life.

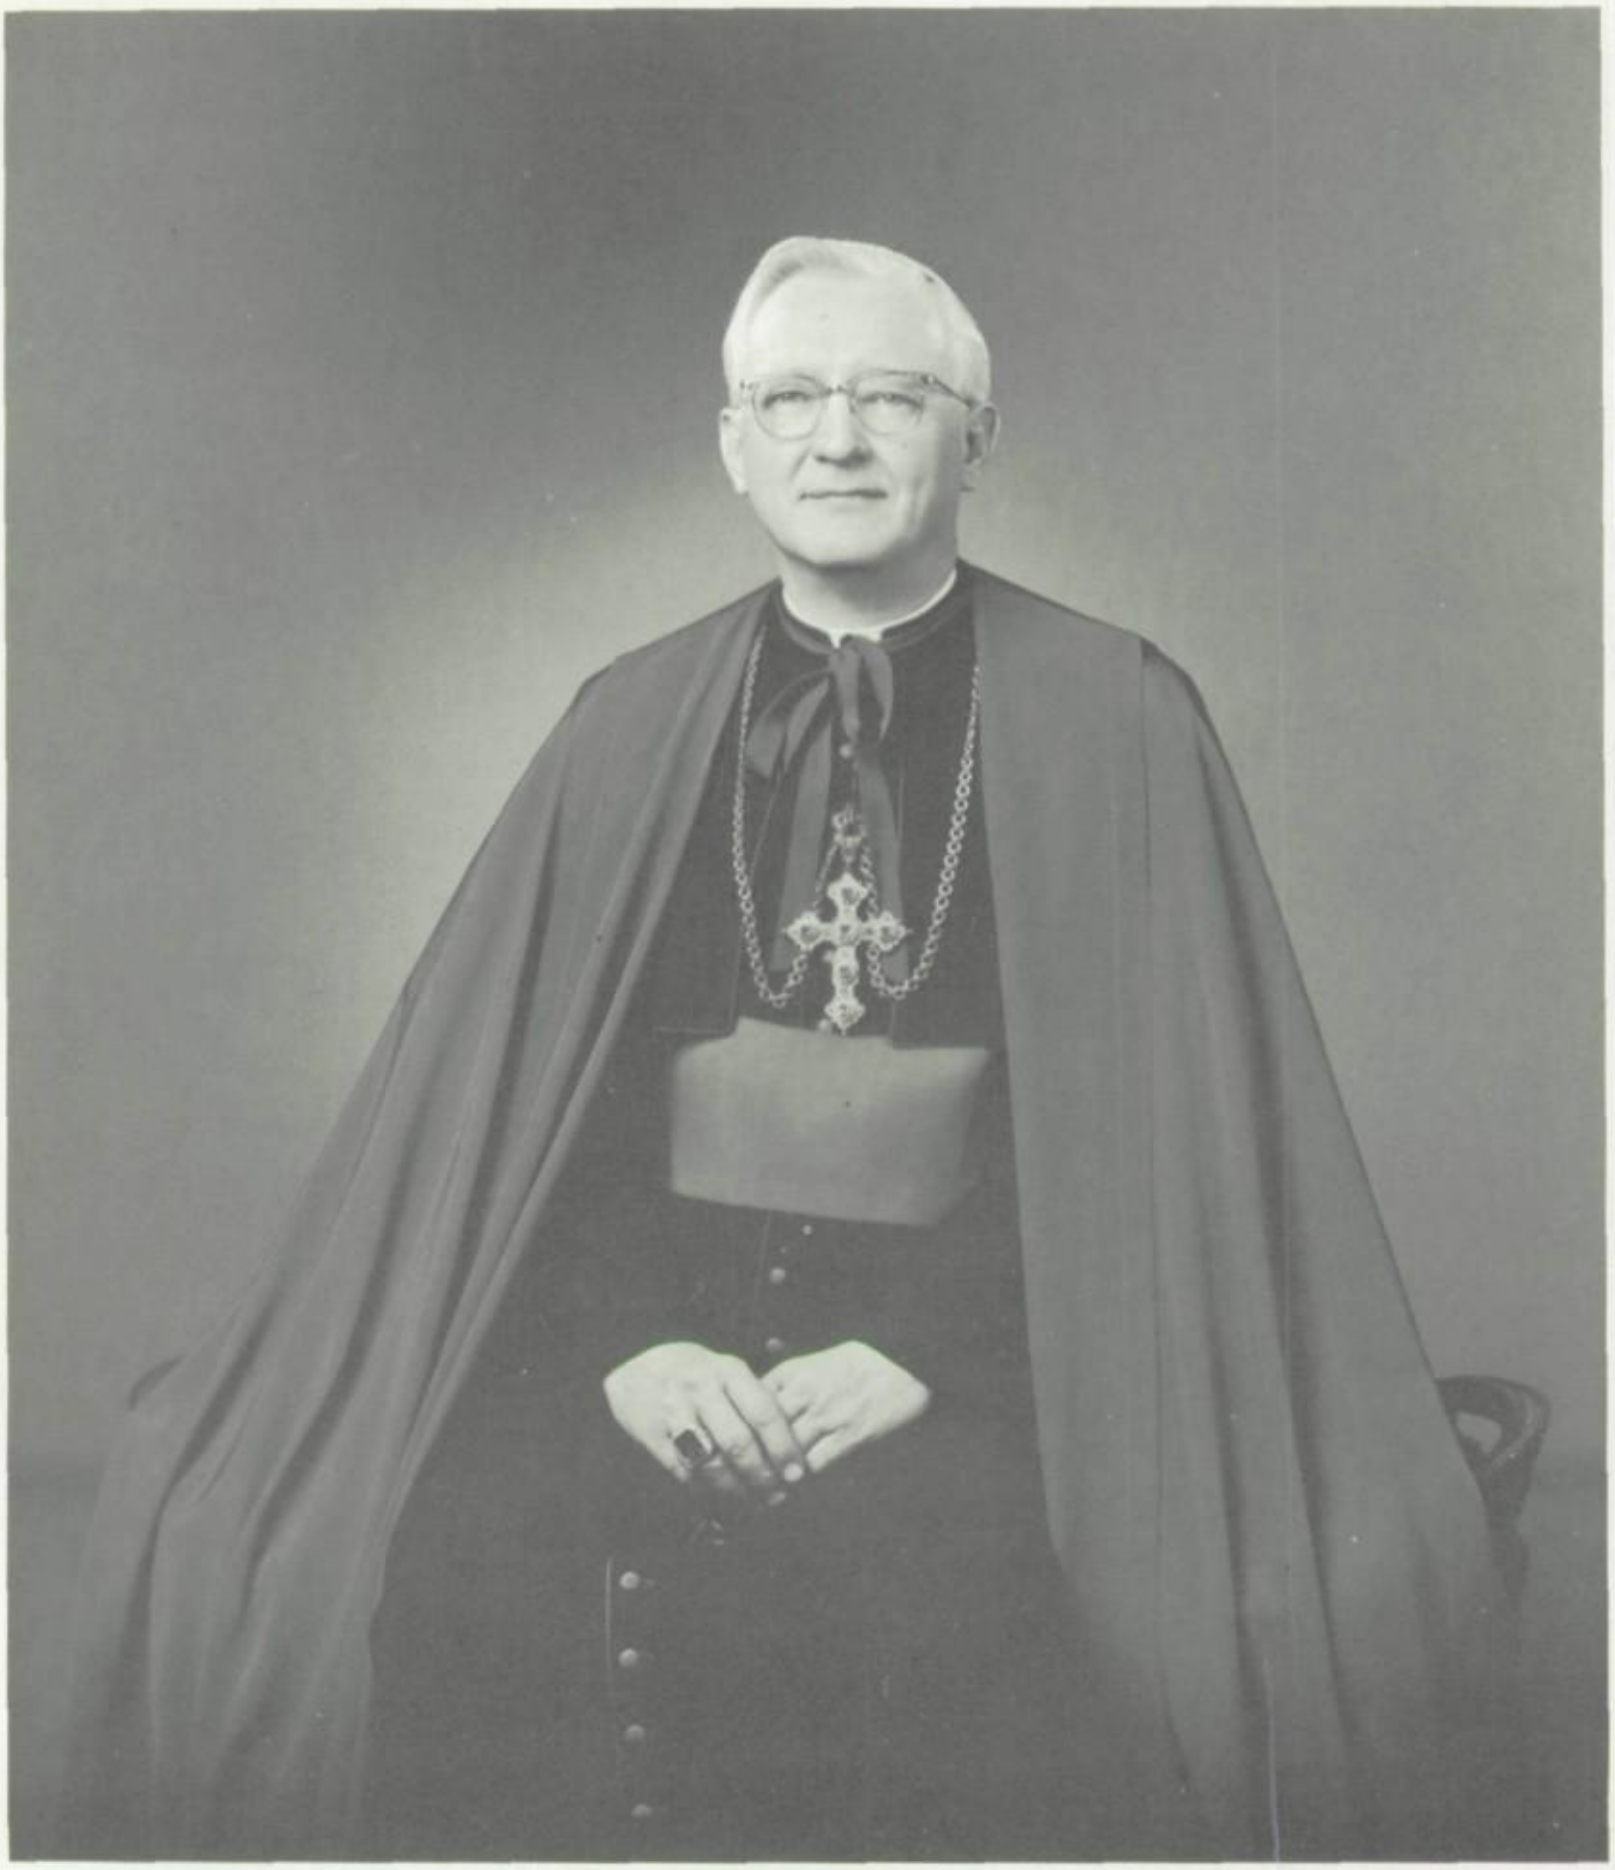
As we are separated by time and distance, the cavalcade of faces and events will fade into the realm of nostalgia. Though years and miles apart, our bond of friendship will be strengthened by the supernatural union which joins us all.

Neither time nor distance shall obsure the memory of our truest friend. He followed us from boyhood to manhood. With us when we first entered Cathedral and when we bid our school farewall, He encouraged us when we won and comforted us when we lost. His love for us is incomparable. It is truly said of Him, "Greater love than this has no man."

1962 CRUSADER

CATHEDRAL HIGH SCHOOL

BELLEVILLE, ILLINOIS



TO YOUR EXCELLENCY, MOST REVEREND
ALBERT R. ZUROWESTE, BISHOP OF BELLEVILLE:

The entire student body of Cathedral salutes you for affording us the privilege of a Catholic education. For many years the desire to provide improved, modern facilities for the schooling of the Catholic youth of this area has been close to your heart. The ever-increasing number of new Catholic grade schools, Mater Dei and Assumption High Schools, as well as the proposed Catholic Boys' High School testify to this fact. By these sacrificing works of mercy you have helped us preserve a precious Catholic heritage which we shall treasure always.

MONSIGNOR GREGORY HOLTGRAVE
PRESIDENT
CATHEDRAL HIGH SCHOOL

The tasks of Cathedral's president are numerous and varied. This year, as in the past, Monsignor Holtgrave has, in conjunction with the faculty, striven to preserve the high standards of academic excellence. With our increased enrollment, his position has assumed new and greater responsibilities.

The students of Cathedral High School offer their appreciation and gratitude to this pious and learned man who has afforded them the great priviledge of a Catholic education. The spiritual and moral foundations which have been molded during our adolescent years will serve us well as we face the challenges of this changing world.

A MESSAGE

BROTHER FRANCIS HAUG, S.M.

Dear Graduates:

At the end of high school, perhaps more than at any other time, surely for the majority of graduates, an individual is faced with a number of important commitments. While some have made these commitments already and others will postpone them for a while, most will commit themselves in the normal process of everyday living to a rather set and inflexible system of values. We designate these commitments as "character" and describe a man as industrious or pure or honest or religious.

From your first day at Cathedral, the ultimate aim of the faculty has been to ready you for the commitments to life that each man must make. This aim explains much of what you students would refer to as the good things of school life, as well as some of the rough things.

The test of the intellectual worth of a school is whether the students graduate with cultivated intellects; the test of the moral worth of a school is whether the students become religious men. The ideal school will integrate these two worths, as we attempt to do at Cathedral.

Through long weeks and months we have tried to discipline your intellects; we have provided curricula and methods designed to develop your mental powers. But, more important, for four years, we have planned everything about school life — our activities, our guidance, our friendly student-teacher relations, in short, our living together — to bring each of you to the threshold of ultimate commitments, the commitment to truth, the commitment to your fellow man, the commitment to your God. And we have done all of this under the inspiration of one motto: Through the Mother to the Son.

You go into a world that is not a family, a world that needs a Mother in order to find the Son. We feel confident that in the commitments you arrive at, you will bring your Marian sonship to bear upon a world desperate for the kind of youths we think you are.

Sincerely in the Virgin,
Brother Francis Haug, S.M.

Upon closing our books on another scholastic year, we should take time to reflect on a collection of memories. Without exception, we all have been given gifts for which we can give but a token of our appreciation in return. The gift of knowledge is one such gift. This gift, though intangible in itself, is one of our greatest privileges.

In the rush of school activity, little thought is given to the long hours of preparation which each teacher contributes to his classes and extra-curricular duties. It is only fitting that we now recall, in appreciation, these sacrificing efforts since our teachers aided us in study and guided us to spiritual maturity. In short, they are our friends.

These men who have dedicated their lives to the spiritual and academic development of Catholic youth do not seek reward in monetary remuneration. Their compensation is the satisfaction of knowing that what they have taught today will serve as a guidepost when their students have entered the school of life.

We consider it a great honor to have been instructed by men who have shown us the Christian ideal and we pray that their hopes for us may be realized.

RELIGION

Cathedral's religion program gives the student new insights to the true meaning of life and its purpose. A wide background in Christ's life and teachings with a knowledge of the world's problems will aid all students in obtaining the Christian ideal. This training will give the Catholic leaders of the future the strength to cope with the increasing materialistic concepts held by many of the world's leaders. This study is a sacred one for Christ Himself has commanded us, "Learn of Me for I am meek and humble of heart."

Father Ross takes the oath.

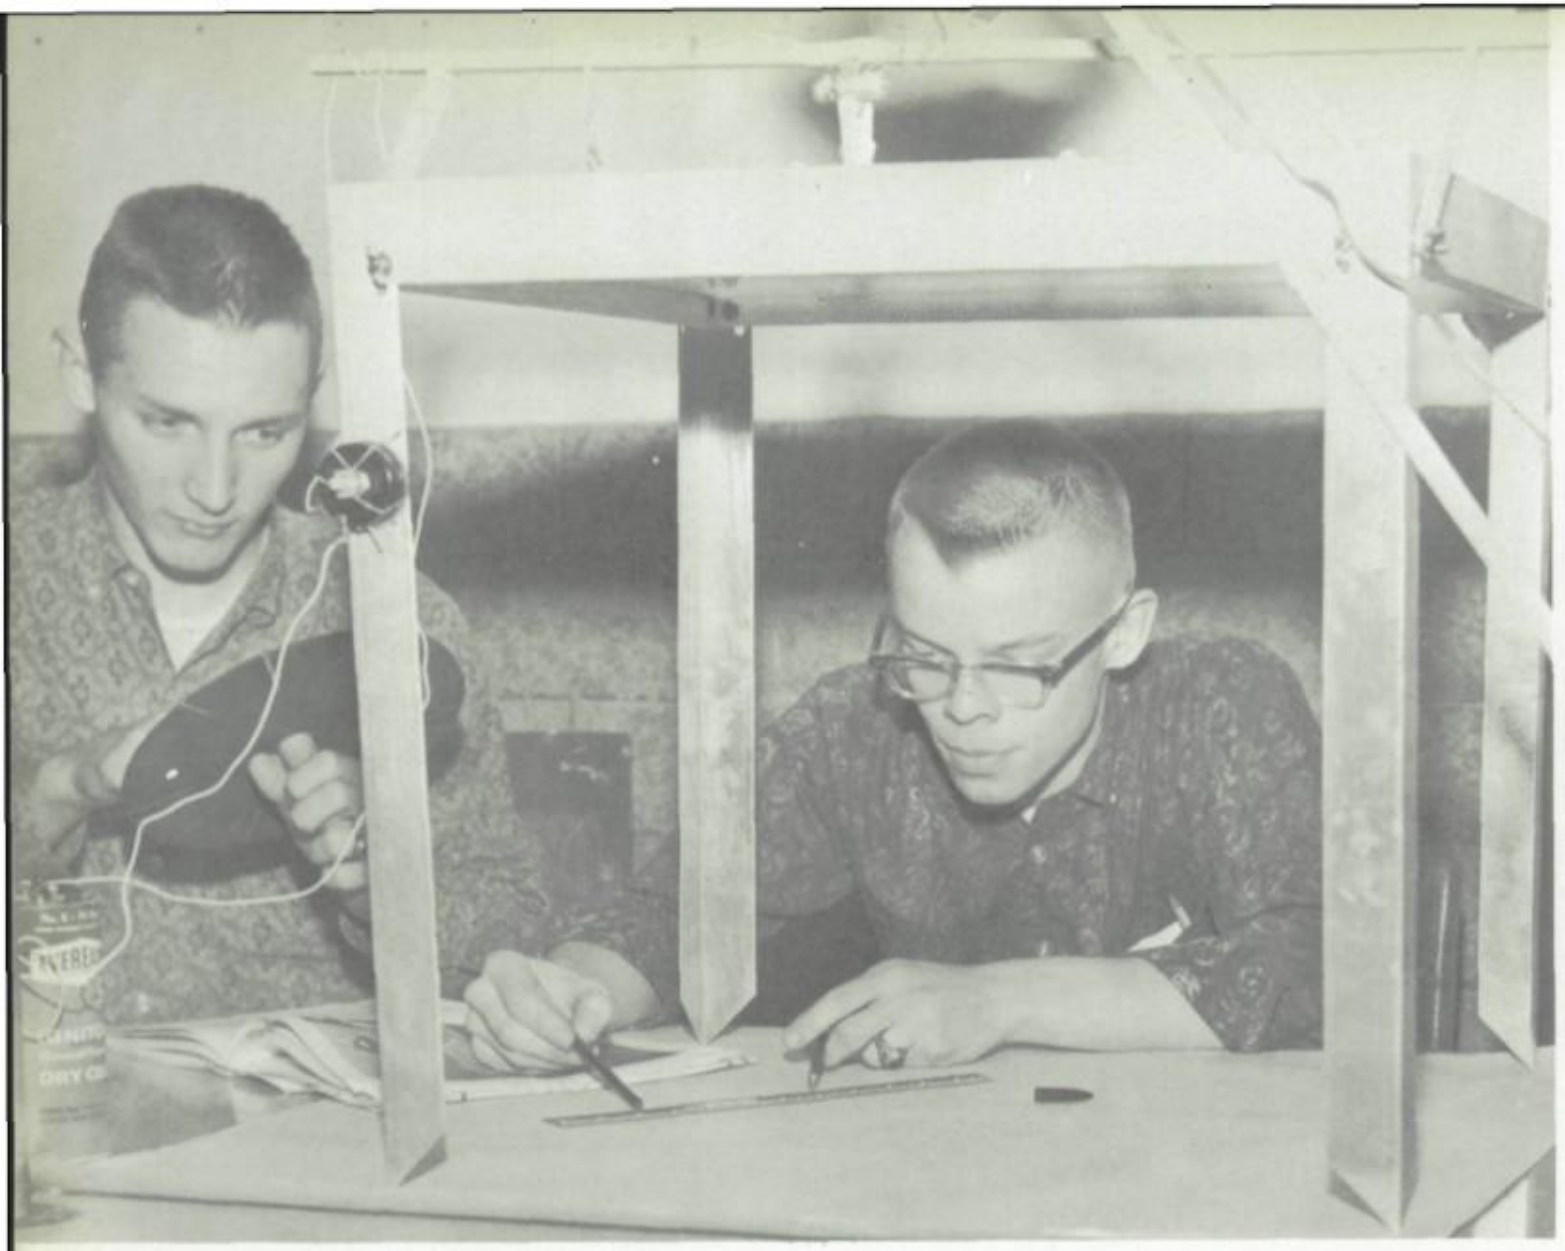
Now let me think!

BUSINESS

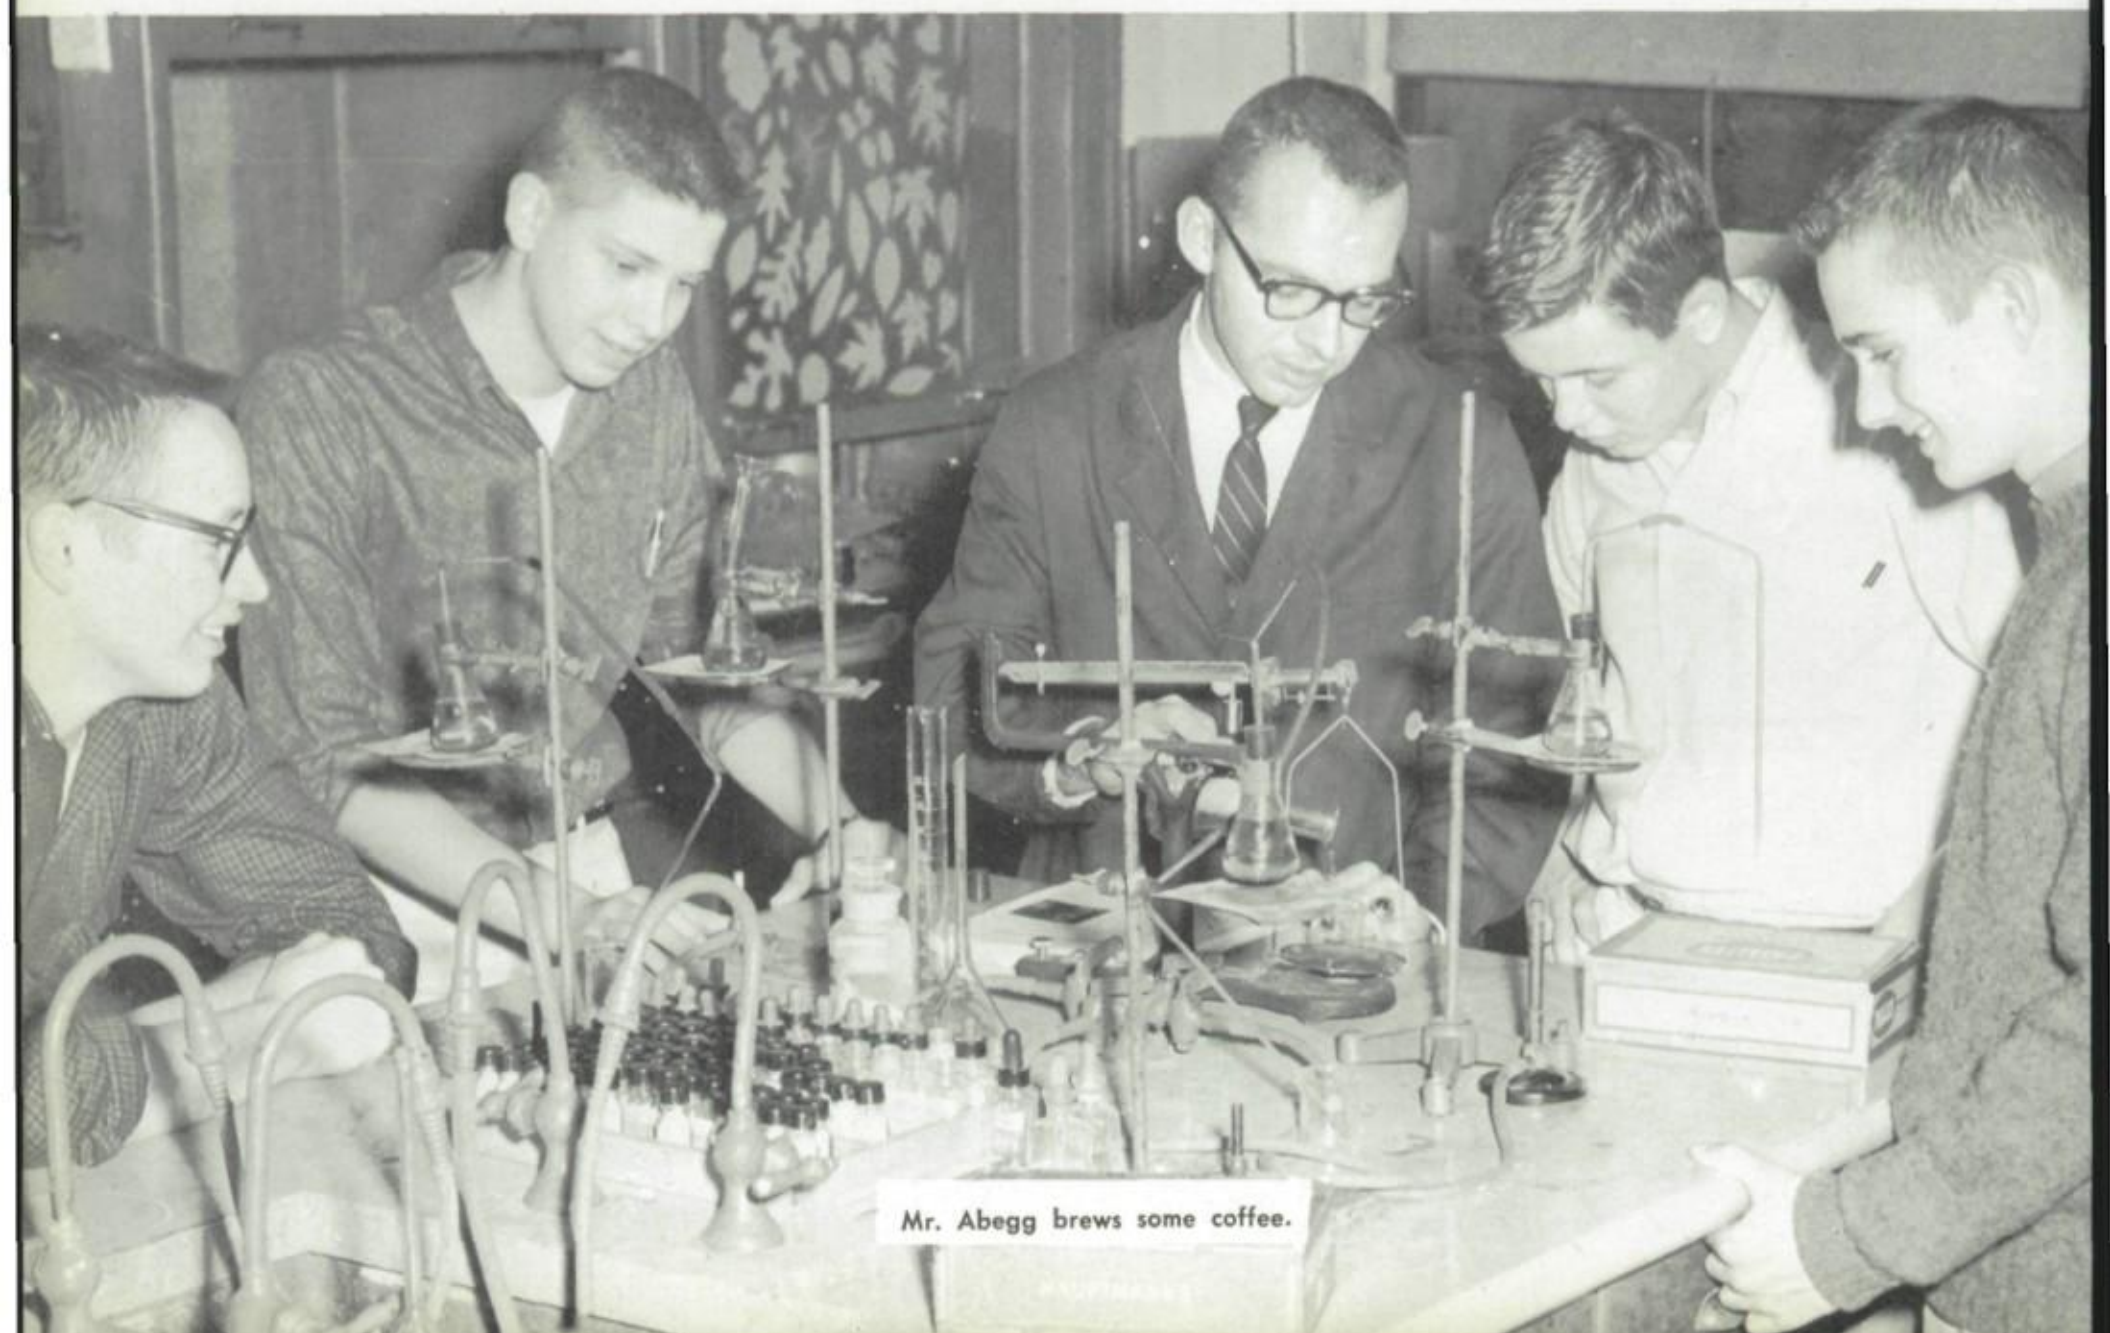
The business world today is suffering from a malady caused by a lack of godliness in the world which results in immoral business practices. Our Catholic schools, in preparing men for a future business life, imbue in them the will to counteract this malady and have the aim of creating good businessmen. Cathedral has a wonderful business program and we pay tribute to its energetic students and staff.

SCIENCE

The rapid development in technology in the past few decades gives some idea as to the increasing importance of the scientist in the years to come. The achievements of the scientists bear witness to the power of God, who designed and created the world about which we are just learning. These scientists begin in high school laboratories and classrooms such as ours and go on to delve deeper into the mysteries of the world and come to have an increasing wonder of Him who created it.



Pat and "T.L." measure wave lengths in Physics.



Mr. Abegg brews some coffee.

MATHEMATICS

Besides being a science in itself, mathematics is the tool for the understanding of nearly all the other sciences. Just as the farmer needs a plow or hoe to turn his field, so also does the scientist need the tool of mathematics to think logically in the scientific fields. Mathematics also cultivates the mind in such a manner that one leaving his study in math has the ability to think more comprehensively, more logically, and is better able to reason clearly because of these studies.

These are just a few of the reasons why we salute those who have taught it to us here at Cathedral.

Brother DuWayne gives his students a little food for thought.

Mr. Fizer explains a complex algebra problem to his attentive class.

LANGUAGES

Along with the study of English comes the study of foreign languages which allow us to enrich our intellectual life through the study of the cultures of other countries. To aid us in this study Cathedral has employed the modern aids of the tape recorder and television. It is our hope that these programs have succeeded in enlarging the literary horizons of the students.

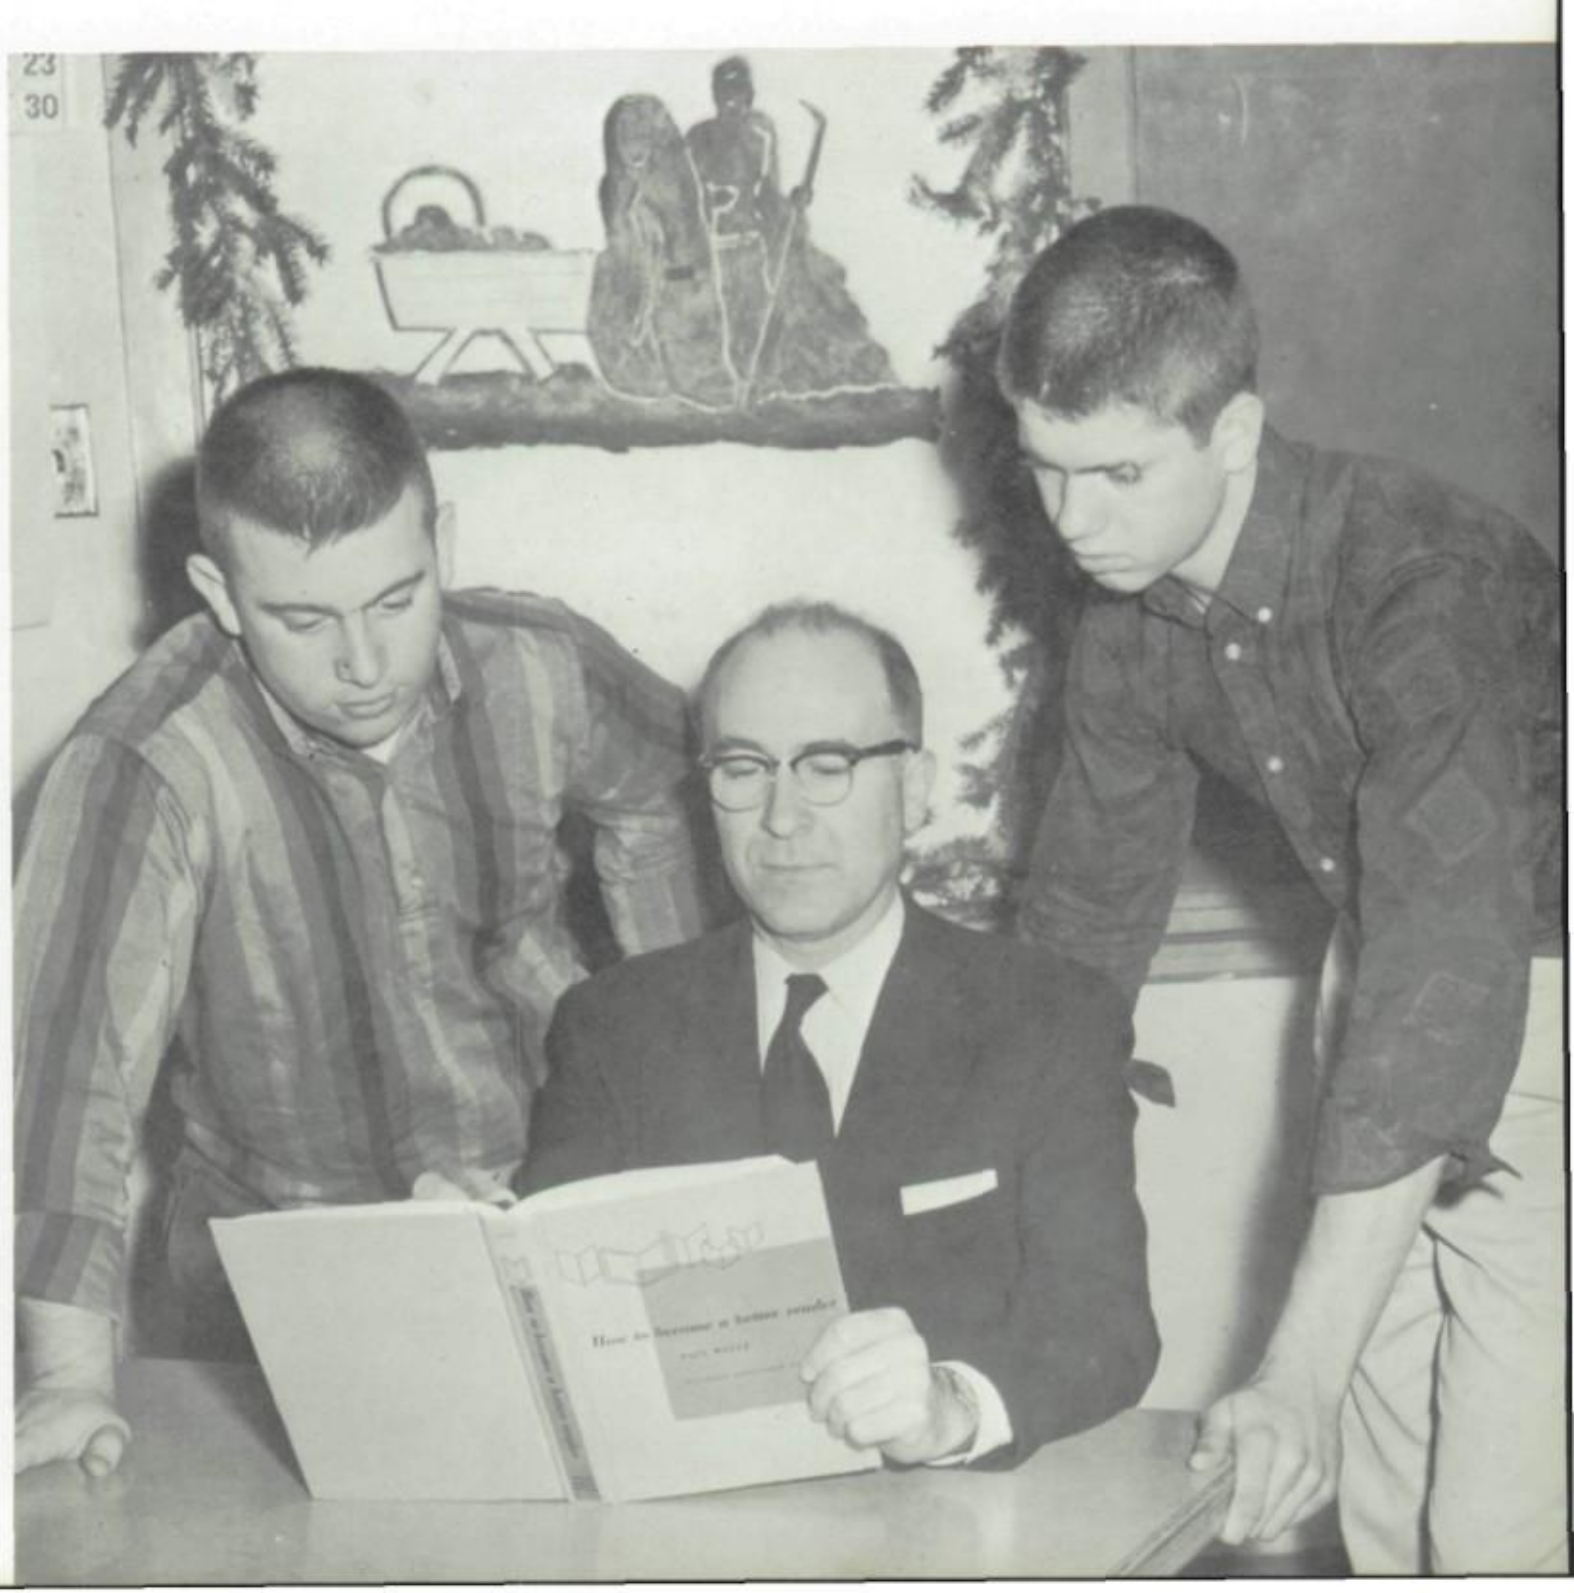
Brother Tondre employes tape recorders and television in his French class.

Mr. Bauer gives individual attention in the writing program.

A mastery of the English language is a necessity for a successful career and a full life. The growing intellectualism in the world today makes a large vocabulary and a mastery of the techniques of English a must for meaningful communication.

The reading and writing programs now firmly established at Cathedral lead to this mastery. Our intellectual background has also been enriched by the study of literary classics.

ENGLISH



Brother Lehan points out aids for more effective reading.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. McAteer gives his lecture while his class attentively takes notes.

In our modern world, an understanding of the workings of men and their political machines is essential for an intelligent citizen and a diligent Christian. The history courses bring to us the wisdom of another age and the courses in American problems and sociology give us a relationship between the workings and problems of modern society and the Christian ideal. Cathedral has given her students, through the social studies courses, an insight to the workings of the world and the rich heritage that belongs to them.

SODALITY

The function of the Sodality is all important in this age when spiritual growth is often neglected for materialistic pleasure. Only through Mary, the mediatrix of all graces, can we find the strength to overcome the temptations and problems which beset us in our daily lives.

Cathedral's Sodality's aim is to have every student always implore the spiritual help of the Blessed Virgin. In this manner all will show their gratitude to the God-man who died on Golgotha. During that hour of excruciating agony Christ gave to men his final and most cherished gift, His Immaculate Mother. His words are as true for us this day as they were on the first Good Friday. "Son, behold thy Mother."

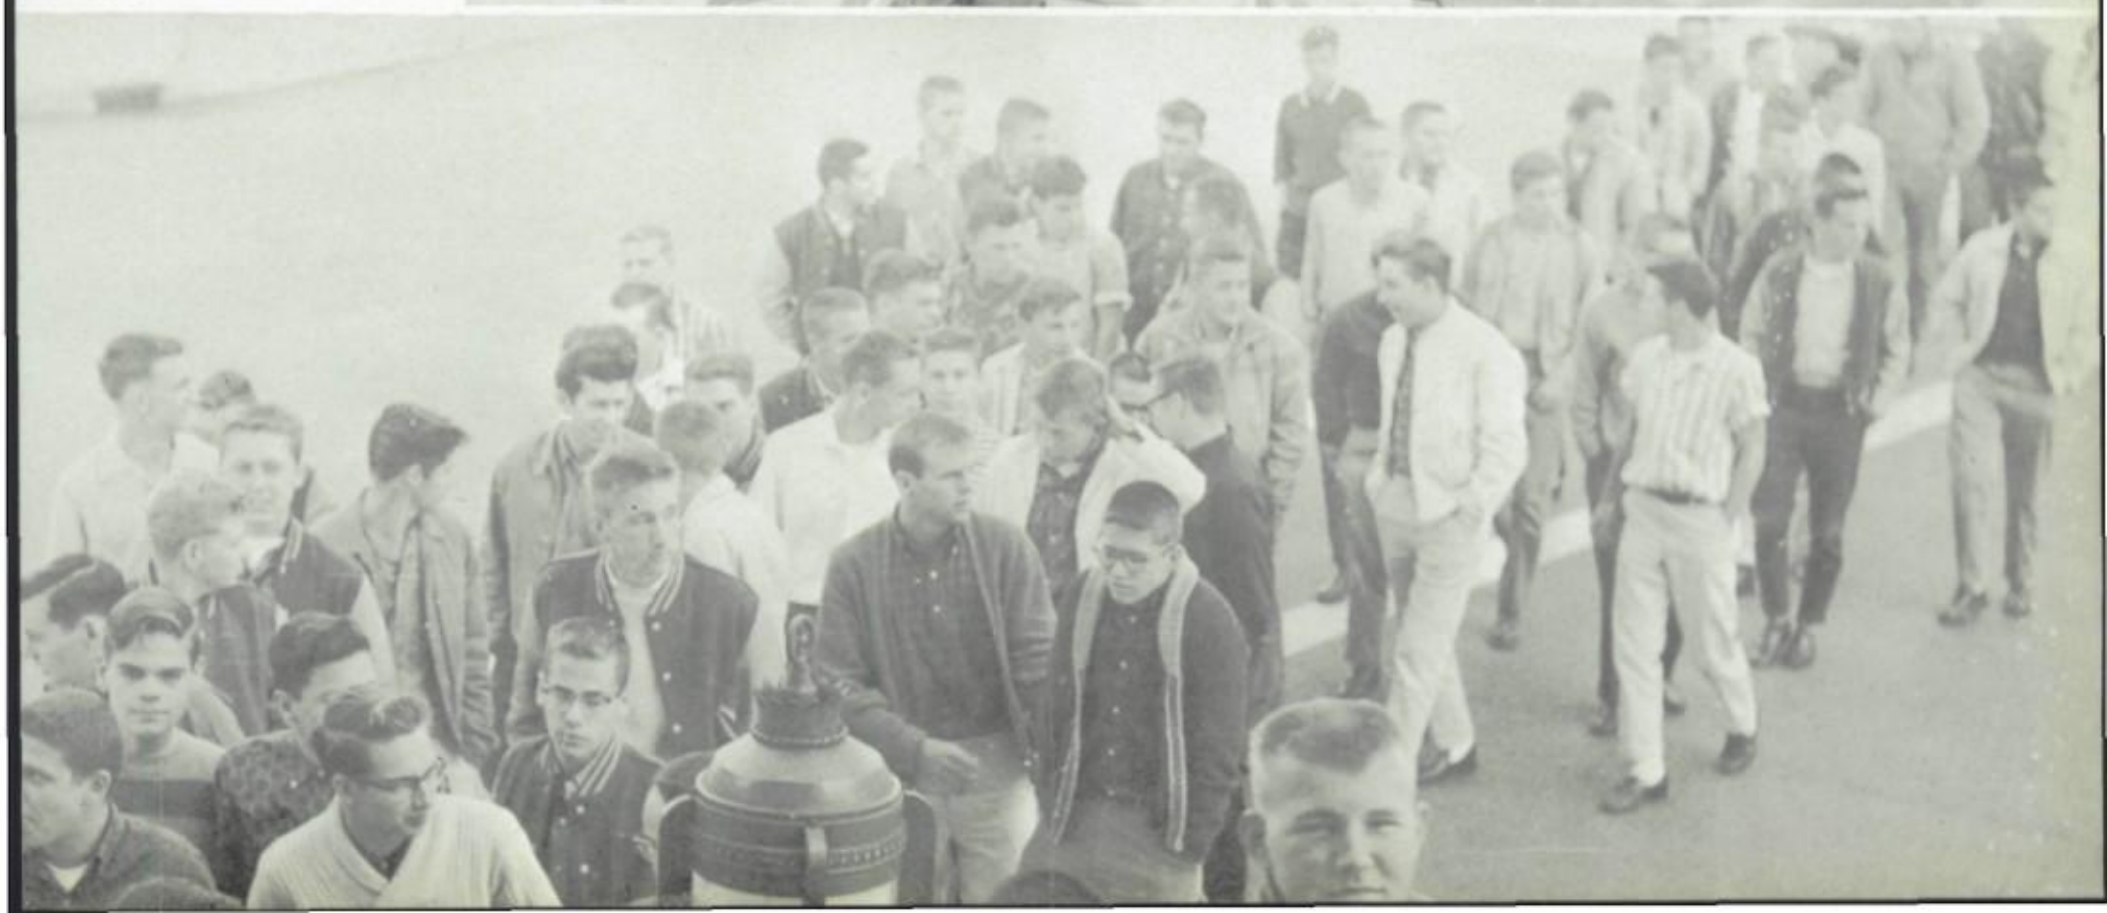
RETREAT

Cathedral's annual retreat was held from October 18 hrough October 20.

Father Louis Reile, S.M., the retreat master, presented the hallenges facing the Catholic in an unstable world. He urged ll students to seek Mary's aid in obtaining the graces necessary o meet and overcome the growing anti-Christian attitudes of oday.

Every student, moved by Father's graphic examples of the Church's modern day martyrs, became more aware of his re- ponsibility to bring Christ to all men. The priest stated that e found great consolation in the path being taken by today's Catholic youth who seek God's grace in overcoming seemingly nsurmountable problems.

The school's principal me of grace was conclud- d with the Papal Blessing.



MOTHER - SON COMMUNION

The Mother and Son Banquet was held on September 8. The mothers and their freshman sons went to the 8:00 mass and afterwards retired to the high school auditorium for their annual breakfast. The Communion and breakfast was attended by approximately 190 freshmen who escorted their mothers. The featured speakers were Father Raphael Meddeke, Brother Francis Haug, and Brother Thomas Egolf. This annual event is held each year in order to introduce the mothers to the faculty and goes far towards the fine parent-teacher relationship that we have always had in the past years. This event also marks a time when the mothers and sons can strengthen their bond with their Creator and the bond between themselves.

MOTHER'S CLUB

The sentiments of all Cathedral students are in complete accord with those of Abraham Lincoln who said, "All that I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother." Officers of Cathedral's Mothers' Club are Mrs. Leo Hayes, Mrs. Harry Crain, Mrs. Steve Miller and Mrs. Adolph Dahm.

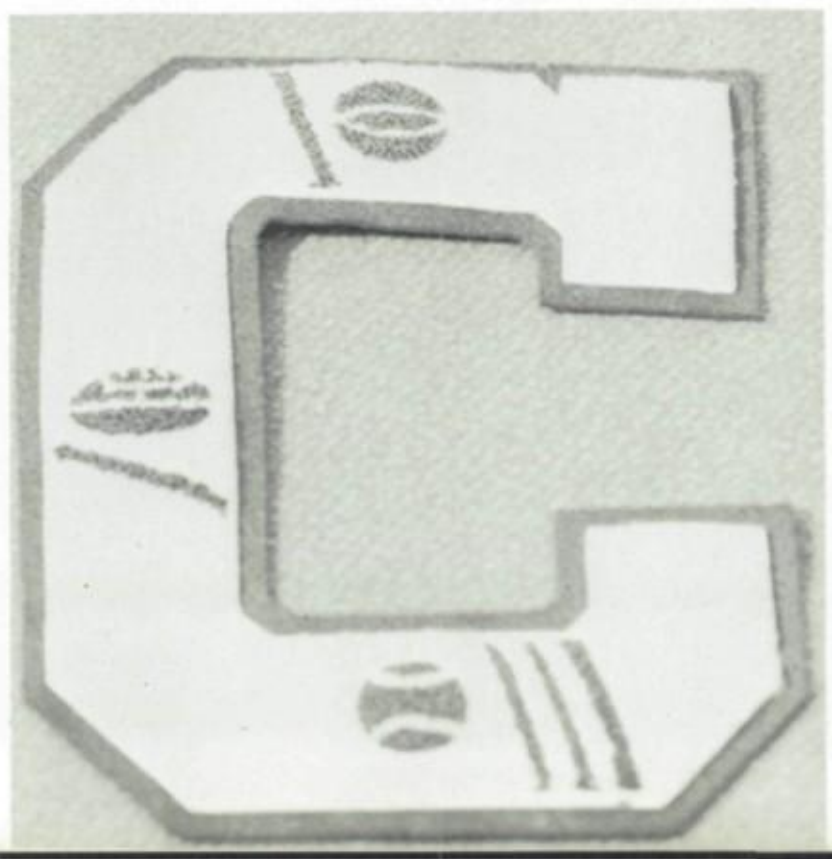
LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The members of Cathedral's Lettermen's Club possess a vast array of talent. These boys have been recognized for their outstanding service to Cathedral.

This body strives to promote greater unity among all school organizations.



The Speech Club has marked another successful year of inter-school competition with an increased reservoir of talent. Numerous awards have been won by this Club this year which has divisions in oratory, dramatic interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, and radio recitation.

The Student Council regulates all matters of general student interest. Experience in this organization will prove invaluable to those seeking careers in government and top level managing positions.

STUDENT COUNCIL

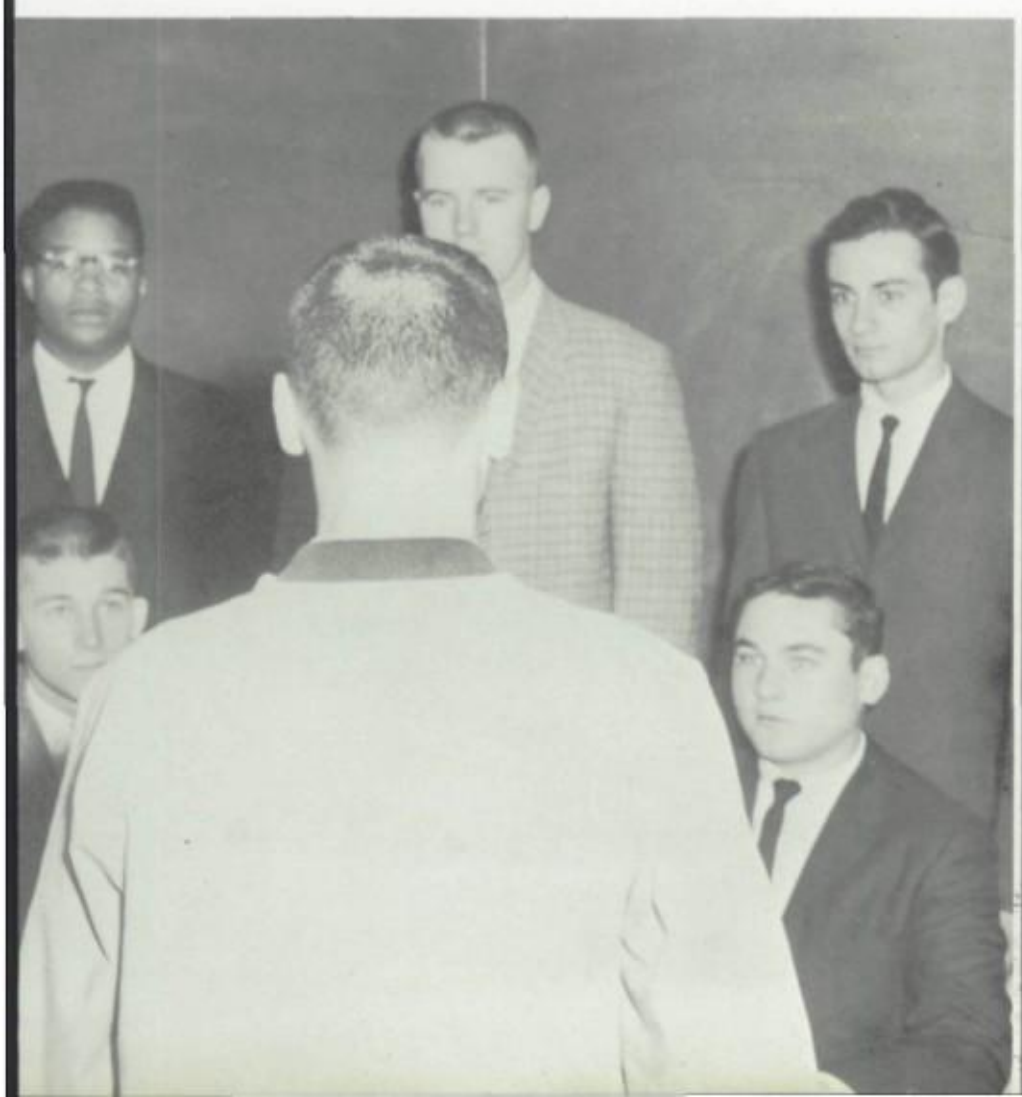
he judicial branch of the Student Council is the Student Court. This body enforces all school regulations and sees that order is kept at all times.



The school newspaper has presented articles ranging from school activities to the Christian viewpoint of the complex problems of the nation and the world. The wide interests of the student body are taken into consideration in the stories of sports, music, social problems, and religious guidance. Undoubtedly, their clear, concise reporting has been responsible for the many awards they have received.

PAPER STAFF

PAPER EDITORS — Joe Cipfl, Robert Grimmer, Larry Airaghi, Evertt Kalkbrenner, Terry Lurtz, Anthony Welsch.

YEARBOOK STAFF

These boys have devoted much of their time and effort to the production of this year's annual. It is their sincerest hope that this book will provide a fitting memento of our high school days.

ORPHAN BOWL QUEEN

Reigning as Cathedral's Orphan Bowl Queen this year was Miss Katherine Paoli. The Orphan Bowl Dance climaxed many weeks of preparation on the part of local C.Y.O. units to make this classic a success. It afforded a much-deserved respite from the strenuous activity of daily practice for all members of Cathedral's grid squad.

All proceeds from the contest for Orphan Bowl Queen went for the benefit of the children of St. John's Orphanage.
